

Weekend Traffic Toll Reaches 16

Canton Man, Mother Killed In Collision

By The Associated Press
Sixteen persons died in traffic mishaps in Ohio over the weekend, an Associated Press survey of the 54-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday showed.

There were no deaths reported of other accidental causes.

Two members of a family were killed in each of the two accidents which claimed more than one life. A Canton man and his mother were killed when their car hit the rear of a tractor-trailer near North Canton. A Dayton man and his five-year-old daughter were struck and killed by an automobile while crossing a Dayton Street.

The list of fatalities:
Friday night:

Ray Blair, 27, Akron, when the motorcycle he was driving went out of control and crashed into a utility pole in Akron.

Anna H. Burns, 80, Toledo, in a two-car crash three miles west of Toledo.

Elbridge Rutherford, 70 Rt. 3, Delaware, when his farm tractor collided with a car near Delaware.

Paul Koehler, 21, Malvern, in a two-car collision on Ohio 80 about one mile north of Malvern, Carroll County.

Harold Garner and his mother, Mrs. Alma Garner, both of Canton, when the car in which they were riding smashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer on Ohio 8, about four miles north of North Canton.

Saturday:
John S. Pearson, 27, Excelsior, Butler County, when his car went out of control on Ohio 4, south of Middletown.

Mrs. Rose Kovacic, 52, Perry, Lake County, struck by a truck in the driveway of her home.

Joan Andrews, 22, Findlay, in a two-car collision on Ohio 587, about 10 miles southwest of Tiffin.

Charles D. Stump, 50, Rt. 1, Miamisburg, in a two-car collision on a Montgomery County road.

Thomas G. Parraz, 22, Tiffin, in an auto accident in Tiffin.

Sunday:
Joseph D. Eicher, 18, Rt. 1, Stryker, when his car plunged off Ohio 2, in Williams County near the Fulton County line.

Ben Howard, 33, and his daughter, Diane, 5 of Dayton struck by a car while crossing a Dayton intersection.

Carl E. Carroll, 33, Chillicothe, in a three-car collision at a Chillicothe intersection.

Mrs. Treva Brown of Union City, Ind., when the car in which she was riding struck a tree on Ohio 49, about 10 miles south of Greenville, left the highway and careened into a tree.

Girl, 17, Unconscious For Five Years, Dies

WESTERLY, R.I. (AP)—Margaret McKenzie, 17, who had been unconscious for the past five years, died yesterday. She was in a coma since she fell from her bicycle and suffered a brain concussion March 5, 1951.

PLANT SUPERINTENDENT DIES

YOUNGSTOWN Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday for Oliver J. Jenkins, 58, superintendent of the window and door engineering department of Republic Steel Corp.'s Truscon Steel Division. He died of a heart attack Saturday.

POTATO 'JUST SPRINGS OUT OF GROUND'—When Noah McIntosh of 1094 Cleveland St. saw a potato plant spring up in his garden where only fertilizer had been strewn, he was surprised. But he was even more surprised later when he dug up the potato and discovered its weight was one pound, five ounces, and measured 11 inches in length.

Clustered around the long potato were five others, one of which was eight inches long. All told the six weighed about five pounds.

McIntosh, a former Lisbon farmer, is shown in the photo above viewing the vegetables. Where did the potatoes come from? Well, McIntosh, who fertilizes his soil with leftover table foods, believes that a potato paring may have been buried and that the root grew from that.

Oldest Woman Newswriter In Ohio Is Honored

WADSWORTH, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Newspaper Women's Assn. has cited 90-year-old Mrs. Hattie Krout of the River Styx community near here for her 35 years of newswriting and because she is probably the oldest newspaper woman in Ohio.

Until five years ago, Mrs. Krout, a widow, was a working newspaper woman, gathering news of the River Styx community of about 200 people for three neighboring newspapers and typing it on her 35-year-old typewriter.

ONWA, the 54-year-old state organization of working newspaper women, presented the oldest member of their profession with a marble based desk set bearing a figure holding a lighted torch aloft. It is inscribed "O. N. W. A. Salutes Hattie Krout."

"I don't know why these women did this for me," Mrs. Krout said. "They don't even know me. All I did was just my job and I loved every minute of it. This trophy is so beautiful, I'll be getting up in the middle of the night to look at it."

Mrs. Krout's grandson, Bob, a college student, has lived with his grandmother for four years. Her only son, Lt. Col. Leo Martin Krout, is retired from the U. S. Army and is working for the U.S. government in Paris.

Mrs. Krout lives in a large seven-room house which once was a stage coach tavern. Of Irish ancestry, her grandparents came from Chester County, Pa., in 1808 to take up some land at Pike Station, then a stage coach stop which now is Creston, Ohio.

She was born in Seville, Ohio, where she attended school and was graduated from Wadsworth Normal School. She taught in Medina County schools before her marriage.

Until her retirement five years ago following an attack of pneumonia, she was a notary in addition to her newspaper work.

Jimmy Durante, 63, To Wed Actress, 35

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Jimmy Durante, 63, and his fiancée have returned to Hollywood, a little astonished at all the fuss.

News of the comic's engagement to Margie Little, 35, an actress from Plainfield, N.J., was disclosed Saturday night at the opening of a tennis club in Phoenix, Ariz.

"Why we've been going together for 10 or 11 years," the Schnozzola said upon returning here Sunday night.

He said they plan to be married "sometime next year."

Durante was married in 1916 to the former Jeanne Olsen. She died in 1943.

World Series Argument Turns Out Violent

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Dink Davis, 68, and his wife, 64, argued over the World Series Sunday.

Mrs. Davis told police her husband hit her twice with a chair bruising her arms. Davis said she hit him with a hammer.

Davis went to a hospital for treatment of head lacerations. Mrs. Davis was charged with assault with intent to kill and was released on $1,000 bond.

Both declined to tell which team they rooted for.

POSSUM PETTING PERILOUS

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Perils of 'possum petting: Paul Horning, 49-year-old steelworker, complained to police today that he had five superficial teeth marks in his hand because he tried to pet a live opossum when a man carried the critter by the tail into a local bar.

Spanish-American War Survivors Hold Reunion

CLEVELAND (AP)—In 1898, Company D, Fifth Ohio Volunteer Infantry Regiment, marched off from suburban Berea to the Spanish American War. There were 111 men then.

Sunday six of the 19 survivors held their 57th annual reunion dinner in Berea. They included Thomas Marks of Berea, permanent president of the group; Walter Crawford of Toledo, secretary; and William Brennstuhl of Medina; George Weiskopf of Elyria; Carr Finley of Lakewood; and Robert Alber of Madison.

Company D never saw action. When it reached Florida, the troopship that was to take it to Cuba was rammed by a freighter. Before another ship could be obtained, the war was over.

Man's 100th Birthday Party Is His Last

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Walter Moon invited a few friends up to his hotel room Saturday night to help celebrate his 100th birthday.

When hotel manager Jerry Smith departed with the other guests, Moon reminded him: "Be sure and call me for church in the morning."

Smith knocked on the door shortly after sunup, but there was no answer.

He went in and found Moon had died in his sleep.

Britain, France, U.S. Disagree On Handling Crisis

Basic Unity Of NATO Dangerously Shaken By Split Over Suez Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The basic unity of the North Atlantic Alliance has been dangerously shaken by the split between the United States and its British and French allies over handling of the Suez Canal dispute.

American diplomats said today the situation is probably worse than most people realize and that it will not be quickly repaired. They discounted European speculation that it stems from election year instability in American diplomacy and blamed it instead on basic conflict of interests.

Secretary of State Dulles may try to bridge over the split in New York this week during work with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau on a Suez settlement.

After earlier backing Egypt's right to make a case against Britain and France in the Security Council, Dulles put the United States squarely behind the British-French position on the substance of the issue Saturday when he supported their demand for U.N. endorsement of international control of the Suez Canal.

But last week an apparent Dulles blunder in a news conference and the stormy reaction which followed it in London and Paris brought to the surface the bitter fact which now confronts the Western governments.

It is that on issues involving what Dulles called the colonial area the Western Big Three are almost certain to find themselves split time and again. A check of the consensus inside the State Department bore out the impression that the differences are fundamental and must be expected to remain as sources of friction for years to come.

The consensus inside the State Department is that the basic resistance which Dulles showed to risking war over Suez would have been the same without the election

REDS' SUEZ VOICE—Russia's new foreign minister, Dmitri Shepilov, will be on hand in New York when the U.N. Security Council seeks to settle the Suez Canal dispute. It is expected that he'll back Egypt's opposition to recognition of Suez Canal Users Assn.

States follows a "somewhat independent role." He thus put his finger on the thing which really has the British and French upset.

For the United States has actually played an independent role and gotten an accumulation of resentment in this area for several years.

For example, it pressed the French and the Spanish to agree to total independence for Morocco. It helped persuade the British to give up their last remaining hold on the Suez Canal territory months ago. It has been critical of Britain's handling of the problem of Cyprus. Several years ago it was frequently critical of French handling of Communist warfare in Indochina.

Dulles said this country could not identify itself closely with either the European powers or the newly independent states of Africa and Asia. He said it must be in position to work for the peaceful development of their independence.

The dilemma is a serious one because it strikes at the heart of the system upon which the United States and its allies have built the security of the West.

year political pressures and so would his concern with the problem of colonialism.

It was this problem which Dulles dwelt on at a news conference Tuesday. His later revision of his remarks did not persuade American diplomats that he had not been right in the first place. He may have been unwitting or incorrect; he was not in error.

The essence of Dulles' argument was that when the United States, Britain and France and other Allied countries face issues concerning the North Atlantic area they are bound by treaty to settle them along certain lines. But when problems arise in the area of colonialism, he said the United

Strike At Ford Co. Stamping Plant Ends

CLEVELAND (AP) — A wildcat strike which took most of 3,800 employees off their jobs for three days at Ford Motor Co.'s Walton Hills stamping plant ended today. Only 10 of 434 employees on the shift which began last midnight were absent, the company reported.

The return to work was in answer top leads made by leaders of the United Automobile Workers Local 420 at a noisy, three-hour meeting of 500 union members Sunday.

The UAW leaders said afterwards that the membership informed them they wanted meetings with management on health and safety problems and the question of reprisals. A report on results of these meetings is to be made at another membership gathering next Sunday.

The strike started last Thursday.

A Matter of Desire

The automobile industry is now doing the second most important thing in its repertoire of accomplishments — creating desire for its newest designs by intensive and extensive advertising.

The most important thing it does is to build cars that are so attractive and perform so well everybody wants to own one.

There is no lack of automobiles for transportation in the United States; there has been no net shortage for many years. Even during World War II, when few new cars were being made, there still were enough to go around for transportation.

The misgivings created in the early years by mass production of automobiles, when cautious men feared an absolute saturation of the market for a new kind of transportation, no longer exist.

They were wiped out by the auto industry's success in creating desire for new models to replace models already in use. That is the key to a good auto year in 1957, as it has been the key every year.

The 1957 models are the best ever — the best-looking and the best-performing. The auto industry is optimistic about their acceptance at a rate that will represent at least a 10 per cent increase over the 1956 rate, which dropped about 30 per cent below the all-time record of 7,170,000 sales in 1955.

Another One For Mr. Dulles

While the U.N. Security Council sinks legal teeth into the Suez problem, Secretary of State Dulles is getting braced for his next puzzle.

The director general of the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority is on his way to New York with a proposal that could blow the Suez problem sky-high in a new direction. He intends to ask the U.S. oil companies and shipping concerns which have the largest economic stake in the canal's operation to take over private responsibility for its maintenance and improvement, with Egypt raising the money to pay the bills.

The hook is that the United States then would be an unofficial economic partner in Suez, lined up with Egypt against the British and French, whose tradition of colonialism is something Egypt abhors and the State Department under Secretary Hull is reluctant to condone.

It would be a narrowed-down version of Mr. Dulles' "users' conference," with the users of the United States filling all the conference chairs.

Britain and France would be frozen out of their share of international control of the canal, but so would the United States, as far as that is concerned. Egypt's agreement would be with U.S. economic interests, not with the U.S. government.

And what is Egypt's selling point going to be when Secretary Dulles intervenes? Straight and to the point: Egypt wants to avert war over Suez and so does the United States; and both want Suez to remain in operation.

Fair Trade

George Preston Marshall, chief of the Washington Redskins (football team), made a wild swing with an oratorical tomahawk and scalped himself at a football writers luncheon in Philadelphia this week.

The colleges in the East and the Far West which have pulled out of commercialized football and gone back to amateurism, he charged, are writing the obituary of the sport first played in the schools now composing the Ivy League.

Therefore, the thing to do is to fire their presidents and save football; i. e., the source of part of Mr. Marshall's income. That is his recommendation.

This is the season for being aware of the difference between a game played for fun by bona fide students and a game played for athletic profit by special performers, who may or may not be students. Schools that have gone all the way back to amateurism simply decided that football ceased to be a game when it became an exhibition for profit. It was that simple. So they got out of the football business.

If George Preston Marshall and his Redskins will not teach school on the side or give out degrees, the simon-pure colleges will abide by their policy of staying clear of professional football. That sounds like a fair trade.

A bakery presented one of its drivers with $500 on the 20th anniversary of fine service. He drove them to it!

Now comes the good news that Mom is putting up jelly, and the kids are glad to spread it around.

A game warden says a gun should be loaded with caution. With lots of people that'd be safer than shells.

Boomerang Oratory

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Democrats 'Big Business' Cry Could Backfire

The "big business" argument which the Democrats, from Adlai Stevenson down, have been using can boomerang — and there are signs already that it is doing so.

The point made by the Democratic nominee is that President Eisenhower's administration is dominated by big business, influenced by big business and hence is hostile to little businesses and to the workman. What this implies is that there is something unethical and improper about the President's record in office, that somebody has allegedly benefited at somebody else's expense, and that Mr. Eisenhower is presumably the enemy of the workman.

Small wonder that the President, himself, hit back vehemently at such tactics in the campaign, when he said at Cleveland: "The opposition say that they alone care for the workmen and women of America and that the Republican party is really a vague kind of political conspiracy by big business to destroy organized labor and to bring hunger and torment to every worker in America. This is more than political bunk. It is willful nonsense. It is wicked nonsense."

TURNED OVER to the other side of the coin, Republican speakers can make a pretty good case on what the hostility of the Democrats to big business could mean in legislative moves to harass, if not frustrate, the larger companies and prevent them from expanding. This could discourage job creation and fuller employment.

In Michigan, for instance, are three big businesses — Ford, General Motors and Chrysler — principal producers in the nation's biggest industry. Would workers in those plants be benefited if a Democratic administration gets into power and starts breaking up these companies?

Employment in the state of Michigan would take a decided drop, and there would be a chaotic period of stagnation if the federal government began to take over or to regulate the auto industry.

Working for the government means, of course, that labor unions lose their right to strike — their most important lever in collective bargaining. Radicals who favor government ownership as the alternative to big business operations had their way a few years ago in England, for example, when the Socialist Labor party voted to have the government take over the steel industry. The people repudiated this as a subsequent election.

Despite all the denunciation of "big business," there is no clear definition in the present campaign by the Democrats as to just what they consider wrong about the larger companies. If those companies are violating antitrust laws and aren't being prosecuted, there could be a case made. But the denunciation from the Democrats is of "big business" in general.

WHEN IT COMES to enforcing antitrust laws, the Eisenhower administration has been just as zealous as, if not more so than, its predecessors. The other day a business executive who heads up a large corporate enterprise was saying privately to this writer: "I shall vote for Ike reluctantly. I like him personally. But his department of Justice has caused my company more trouble than all the Democratic administrations in past years put together."

An attempt is constantly made by the Democratic spokesmen to place "big business" in the position of seeking to eliminate unions. Actually, unions derive their right to exist from a statute of Congress, and no candidate or spokesman on the Republican side has proposed the repeal of the law-given right of the unions to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing. What apparently is back of the drive against "big business" is an effort to create a hostile atmosphere to the private-enterprise system itself — to cultivate the ground for the introduction of state socialism. Yet no body of workers in the world enjoys the high wages and the high standard of living which has been obtained for these workers under the private-enterprise system.

IT ISN'T CLEAR what are the affiliations of the Democrats themselves with "big business." Thus, Mr. Stevenson last year was not averse to accepting a fee from a big corporation which he represented as a lawyer arguing a case before the Supreme Court.

There are many Democrats active in the campaign who are members of law firms which derive much of their proceeds from big business.

The truth of the matter is that it is not the professional politicians but the radical organizations working for the election of Stevenson which are really hostile to large business.

Hence, it is surprising to see Mr. Stevenson adopting the anti-business arguments of the radicals. This can only result in grave doubts being aroused among workmen as to what would happen to them if a Democratic administration came into power after a campaign based so definitely on speeches hostile to business.

Rising Coal Prices

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Coal seems set today to jump into the wage-price-boom parade.

Costlier coal will be sad news for the purchasing agents of the electric utilities, of the steel mills, and of countless factories that use coal for heat or power. Their operating costs will go up — and perhaps their prices, too. And the effect will be felt in Western Europe which uses increasingly bigger amounts of American coal.

Another recent recruit to the parade is the cotton textiles industry. Prices of sheets and print-cloths are rising — quick reaction to the 10 cents an hour price hike for most of the textile workers in the southern mills, which came swiftly after Japan agreed to put the brakes on its competition with American mills.

Makers of lower priced shoes are raising their prices at wholesale by 3 to 5 per cent, citing a coming pay increase of 3 per cent for their workers, plus a 5 cent an hour hike for some tannery workers. These shoes retail at from $2 to $12.95 a pair.

Makers of paper bags and sacks are raising prices, following a wage raise. Distillers are also upping their price tags.

And the ripples set off the wage-price increase in basic steel are still reaching the price shores in many manufactured goods.

Coal users are braced for a price hike to follow the new wage contract the United Mine Workers of America have been hammering out with the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn., representing the northern commercial producers and the coal mines owned by the steel companies.

Consumers remember that in September, 1955, when wages were raised by $1.20 a day, coal prices went up by 25 to 40 cents a ton.

Now that a new wage contract has been drawn up calling for a $1.20 hike at once and another 80 cents April 1, along with vacation benefits amounting to 40 cents a day, coal operators seem sure to raise prices again — and perhaps more than last year.

This year they are mining around 525 million tons of coal, about 10 per cent more than in 1955. The industry, in fact, is on a strong come-back trend after hitting bottom some two years ago. Demand in this country is increasing, particularly from the expanding utility industry and from the chemical and aluminum plants going up along the Ohio River.

Because of the healthy domestic and foreign demand, coal operators are in position to pass along the increased costs of hiking their basic wage scale to $22.25 a day.

Average pay for the miners will run higher than that, under the complicated work and fringe benefit sales. In June the 205,000 miners were averaging $109.50 for a 38.7 hour work week. With demand for their labor good, and wage scales rising, the miners' takehome pay soon should mount much higher.

At the same time, they drastically switched their predominant major party choice from the Republican party to the Democrats. And within the group itself differences in income or occupational prestige appear to have been of practically no significance in the formulation of presidential vote preference since 1936.

However, with regard to 1952, Professor Fuchs wrote: "In 1952 all segments of Truman-Wallace strength except Negroes shifted somewhat to Eisenhower. But analysis of aggregate returns from Jewish areas and the results of national surveys show that the Jewish defection was slight indeed.

In Jewish Assembly Districts in New York City, in Boston's Ward 14, in Hartford's Wards 2 and 4, in Cleveland's Ward 27, in Pittsburgh's Ward 14, and in Cincinnati's Ward 14, Stevenson appears to have matched or increased the Truman percentage of the two-party vote.

Involved are many side issues, namely the attitude of the Administration toward Israel — Arab arm shipments; the failure of the Administration to appoint a Jew to the Cabinet, although one might regard Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC as practically holding Cabinet rank, Maxwell Rabb, is Jewish, as is J. Jack Martin, one of President Eisenhower's Administrative Assistants and formerly Bob Taft's Administrative Assistant.

ON THE OTHER HAND, Liberal Party, which is influential in New York and is principally Jewish, is an anti-Communist, Fabian Socialist element and has endorsed Stevenson and the entire Democratic ticket.

THE SO-CALLED Jewish vote did not exist before Franklin D. Roosevelt became President and then could only be charted in the sense that districts in which Jews were numerous had formerly been Republican and with the advent of Roosevelt became Democratic.

Professor Lawrence H. Fuchs of Brandeis University, writing in "The American Political Science Review," said of this:

"Paradoxically, the most urban of all our citizens, American Jews, have not divided their presidential vote along class lines. As a group they rapidly improved their jobs, extended their incomes, and became highly educated during the 1930's and 1940's."

AT THE SAME TIME, they drastically switched their predominant major party choice from the Republican party to the Democrats. And within the group itself differences in income or occupational prestige appear to have been of practically no significance in the formulation of presidential vote preference since 1936.

In Troubled Waters

The Problem Of Minorities

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

One of the most serious problems in the 1956 election is the emphasis placed by the politicians upon the so-called minorities and their relationship to the balance of power in a particular state.

With so much noise made about the minorities, one wonders what element in the population is the majority. Population in this country, particularly in the large cities, is in such a state of flux and has been for the past 20 or 30 years that general assumptions are usually wide of the mark.

THE SO-CALLED Jewish vote did not exist before Franklin D. Roosevelt became President and then could only be charted in the sense that districts in which Jews were numerous had formerly been Republican and with the advent of Roosevelt became Democratic.

Professor Lawrence H. Fuchs of Brandeis University, writing in "The American Political Science Review," said of this:

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Done By Flashlights

The public is amused and amazed by the growing mania of Americans for getting in the newspaper, TV and newsreel pictures, matter how deeply involved in disgrace, horror, or crime. There was a time when people shunned photography that could do their reputations no good. Propriety and good sense guided them. But these days a woman climbing in the pokey-wagon strikes a pose for the cameras, a schoolgirl taken in a holdup makes a Marilyn Monroe routine, and hoodlums headed for the hoosegow won't talk until the photography is over.

A few days ago a new level was hit when a woman who said she had been bound, gagged and attacked in her swanky apartment, climbed into a nightie and posed in the bed so the general public could get a better idea of the event: leading up to the camera barrage. A doll who reports a jewel robbery in her hotel gets into her bathing suit for pictures that will hold public attention. Juvenile punks at police headquarters for gang wars smile from ear to ear for closeups. A young woman who finds a burglar in her room may not be nearly so frightened by the episode as by a fear the photographers will not get there as soon as the cops. A dowager in a night club donnybrook won't go home until the last flashlight dies away.

A MODEL BOPPED by her nitery escort gladly shows her "shiner" to the cameramen and offers to be socked on the other eye if it makes a more spectacular picture. Participants in foul episodes that would have driven the American of yesterday on a flight to the hills with a blanket over his or her head, now charge police brutality if the police toss them into the bastille before more than 10 tabloid photographers have shown up.

A wife of six weeks shoots her husband and phones her press agent before she calls the police. A wife who has been married 30 years slugs her man with a baseball bat and cries out for the gendarmes and the camera crews in one voice. Chances are her mate, if he regains consciousness, demands that he be photographed, too. College girls pose smilingly getting out of the Black Maria after some campus free-for-all, and a college boy summoned by the dean to explain why he dropped a water bottle on a passing professor says he can't show up as he has promised to wait for the picture men. One thing is clear in modern civilization: it is evidently widely regarded as a fate worse than death to be ignored by a cameraman, however bad it may be for a reputation.

IN IOWA there's a dog that is a vegetarian, raiding the home garden for tomatoes, cabbages, etc. . . . We hope nobody will want to train it to sit up and eat an ear of buttered corn . . . Egypt has put out a stamp commemorating Nasser's Suez seizure . . . (Probably the stamp collecting addicts have formed a "users' association.")

The new President of Panama is a crack golfer . . . This should dispose of the criticism that he hasn't any drive. He went to Dartmouth, by the way, as a youngster, and since he is now head man down in the Panama Canal area, it would be interesting to know if, while in college, he took many "cuts."

William J. Brennan Jr., Ike's nominee for the Supreme Court, is a success story in the glowing American pattern . . . His dad came over as an Irish immigrant and worked as a day laborer, but was determined to see his son get an education . . . Judge Brennan toiled, too, to get through college, but there was no grumbling and no squawking about doing it the hard way . . . The future Supreme Court Justice from boyhood to this day has been a happy, inspirational type and is perhaps less "chesty" than any man ever nominated for the high court.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

There's a small black door with a bright brass knocker in a little London street down past the Queen's Black Horse Guards.

It's a most important to the American people to know the manner of man who walks through that door at 10 Downing Street following the British elections as it is to know the man who walks into 1600 Pennsylvania ave after presidential elections here.

There was a relatively unnoticed election in Britain the other day which one day may rival in significance our own national race. In that contest the British Labor Party chose as its national treasurer a fire-eating, America-hating, friend of the Soviet Union and Sovietized China.

MANY OF US BELIEVE that this left-wing Socialist, Nye Bevan, has just started the political trek to the prime ministry of the British Empire. So do many informed circles in London believe this.

Many in British political circles believe that the British Labor Party will oust Sir Anthony Eden in the next general election. You can get better odds than the Dodgers did by betting against the British conservatives.

If the odds are right and British labor takes over, then Nye Bevan will become either foreign minister, defense minister of chancellor of the exchequer, sort of a combined secretary of commerce and the treasury in our cabinet.

This will mean that our closest ally will be partially governed by a man who has fought for the survival of the London Daily Worker; a man who has accused our forces of not fighting during the war because we did not jump into a second front offensive when the Russians wanted it.

HE IS A MAN WHO has brutalized the U.S. in the crudest anti-capitalist speeches; a man who personally promised Mao Tse-tung in Peiping he would try to swing the western world to Red China; a man who believes there should not be anti-Communist alliances; a man who wants the West to end its stockpiling of atomic and hydrogen bombs.

This Bevan has used the halls of Parliament to mock the United States. I recall hearing him and his left-wing Socialist colleagues laugh at us as though Americans were Neanderthal idiots — attacking us for "invading" Guatemala when that little country was in the hands of Soviet agents.

I recall Nye Bevan saying that the U.S. was wrong in opposing Soviet China. On June 5, 1954, when many an American family was mourning a lad dead somewhere on the mountainsides of Korea, this big, blond, voluble theoretician who never so much as heard a giant firecracker go off, except during the blitz of London, said: "THE ACCUSATION that the Chinese Peoples' Republic is an aggressor is far fetched and groundless. Here we have a new definition of aggression. Apparently it is now possible for a country to 'aggress' against its own people. If this means anything at all, it means that the main charge against revolutionary China is that of being revolutionary.

"So we are now to understand that political and social revolution is an act of aggression. If this does not lead to military sanctions designed to suppress it, the act of revolution renders the country guilty of it, and ineligible for membership in the United Nations. . . . The American official policy wishes to convert the UN into a counter-revolutionary organization."

This is the man who is now second in command of the British Labor Party. He is a defiant left-wing Socialist hiding behind the labor label which has carried him to power in and out of Parliament.

THIS IS THE MAN who said of this label and this party: "I am not interested in being the leader of any party but merely in being a leader. If the Labor Party is not going to be a Socialist Party I do not want to lead it." Since he is, in effect, doing much of the leading we can now believe that the British Labor Party, is his kind of Socialist Party. Regardless of who wins our own presidential election, the American people have just lost the British Labor Party election — and perhaps a mighty ally, too, in the long run.

TEARS OF JOY—Mrs. Thomas Bucher, 21, sheds tears of joy as she is reunited with her son Ronald, one month old. The child was allegedly kidnapped by Mrs. Gladys Bynum, 26, some 16 hours earlier. Chicago police conducted a house-to-house search and found Mrs. Bynum with the child, unharmed.

Canton Man Appeals Murder Conviction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Canton man, who claims a municipal judge refused to permit him to call witnesses he said would support his contention he should not be held on a first degree murder charge, appealed Friday to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Garfield Rutledge asked the court for a writ of procedendo requiring Canton Judge Donald L. McCarroll to proceed with Rutledge's preliminary examination on a charge of slaying Ethel Ceaser in Canton last Sept. 18. Rutledge, who pleaded innocent, was bound to the grand jury by McCarroll.

State To Open Bids On Huge Road Projects

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway department expects to open bids before the end of November on a handful of multi-million-dollar road projects, including big city expressways.

Some work will be on the federal interstate highway system. The federal government will pay 90 per cent of the cost of such projects, leaving the remaining 10 per cent for local governments.

Under a recent agreement, the cities will pay 5 per cent of the cost of urban interstate projects, plus the cost of construction plans, and the state will pay the other 5 per cent.

What looks like the biggest project of the lot is a 1.4-mile section of relocated U. S. 42 in Cleveland, a job the state estimates will cost 14 million dollars. It will take two years or more to build.

Other big projects for which bids will be opened Oct. 16 include 6.2 miles of U.S. 21 in Massillon and three Stark County townships, including a grade separation with two railroads, and a 4.8 mile project on U.S. 68 in Findlay and four Hancock County townships, including a grade separation.

A 1.1-mile portion of the Akron Expressway, estimated to cost 5.6 million dollars, will be up for bids Nov. 13. Two weeks later bids will be opened on a 3.4 mile section of Ohio 18, beginning near the east Akron city limit and running east. It will tie into the over-all planned relocation of Ohio 18 from Akron to where Ohio 18 connects with the northern Ohio Turnpike west of Youngstown. It will cost an estimated 3.4 million dollars.

The department tentatively has scheduled a project involving 7.5 miles of four-lane divided highway on U.S. 25 in Auglaize County for bid taking Nov. 27. It will be a 5.4-million-dollar project.

Optometrists' Ads May Be Forbidden

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Advertising by optometrists, who examine eyes and prescribe glasses, would become "grossly unprofessional conduct" under new rules proposed by the State Board of Optometry.

The board could withhold, suspend or revoke licenses for such advertising under the proposals.

Board Chairman Mervyn Kahl of Cleveland scheduled a public hearing on the sweeping revisions for Oct. 13 in the State Office Building, Columbus.

Besides placing a general ban on advertising, the revised rules would make it "grossly unprofessional" for optometrists to operate in connection with jewelry and department stores and with opticians who make glasses.

A spokesman for the Ohio State Optometric Assn. said that proposal and "a couple of others" might be ignored by the board on grounds that only the Legislature could enact such a ban.

The proposed changes, however, would ban as "bait advertising" such items as the price of glasses, free eye examinations, glasses on credit, guarantees and the like.

The new rules also would ban such advertising statements as "why pay more?" on grounds they tend to "create an air of competition within the profession of optometry" and thus are grossly unprofessional.

An attorney said the Supreme Court has held that optometry is a statutory profession. He said that the new rules, if generally adopted, would put the optometry profession on a similar level with that of doctors and attorneys, whose advertising is strictly limited.

Hortense Alger

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Joan Grove could well be the heroine of a Hortense Alger success story. At 28 she can't cook and is afraid of gas stoves. But she is a vice president in a 12 million dollar a year firm, earns about $50,000 annually herself, and has a wardrobe containing 125 hats.

She also has her own apartment on Fifth Avenue (Jackie Gleason is a neighbor in the same building), dresses better than the average movie star, and collects expensive Louis XIV furniture. What else could a girl ask for except maybe a decorative husband?

"I'm in no hurry for one," said Joan, a tall, slender, blue-eyed girl with blonde-tipped brunette hair. "Right now I like my life as it is."

Miss Grove, daughter of a Detroit auto engineer, was graduated in 1951 from Michigan State University, where she had studied sociology and psychology.

"I had dreamed of becoming a crusading social worker, spending my life helping the needy," she said, "but after looking into the financial rewards of social work, I decided I'd end up being a needy person myself. So I decided to try the business world."

A newspaper ad changed her career.

The ad was placed by Larry Mack, dynamic young president of Slenderella, Inc., who the year before had launched a nationwide chain of salons to help American women improve their figures.

Joan, who has an interesting figure herself (33-24-35), skyrocketed right up the skyrocketing firm which last year claims it reduced U. S. women four million pounds. (This has freed in a crowded land a space equivalent to that take up by 24,000 women weighing 125 pounds, or the area required to park 2,400 cars.)

Last year Miss Grove became the youngest of seven vice presidents of Slenderella, and now supervises about 225 employees in 22 salons ranging from here to Canada.

"I like responsibility," she said frankly. "I have tremendous energy. I couldn't be happy as a housewife, sitting around brooding about the price of potatoes."

Eventually however she hopes to marry and have three children. But, admitting "I like fine things," she said she had no desire to serve as a breadwinner for any uncouth young artist or writer. Her husband will have to be able to support her in the same style she can now afford herself.

Simon Bolivar was liberator of six South American republics — Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Panama, Bolivia and Peru.

HIGHWAY CRASH KILLS TEN. — Bodies of five of ten victims lie in foreground in front of two autos which crashed head-on on a highway curve six miles southwest of Muncie, Ind., on Indiana Route 67. Nine of the victims, including four children, were riding in the car at left. It was the worst two-car crash in Indiana traffic history.

Lewis Orders End To Wildcat Strikes

CINCINNATI (AP) — John L. Lewis, the labor boss who once kept coal miners dizzy answering strike calls, is pledged to seek any striker with heavy fines or ouster from the coal industry.

Lewis says he won't pull any punches in dealing with future "wildcat" or locally-inspired coal strikes, that miners must keep working and submit any gripes to peaceful grievance procedures.

The 76-year-old UMW chief laid down the law Friday to the 3,000 delegates attending the union's quadrennial convention. The convention recessed until Monday.

Lewis reported that in the four-month period from January through April this year, the coal fields were hit with 170 local strikes "of major magnitude" causing large losses of coal production and work time.

"Carry this message back to your members," Lewis intoned grimly to convention delegates. "Don't do it again. Because you'll be fully conscious I'm breathing down your necks."

Lewis said one "wildcat," or unauthorized strike, in northern West Virginia, lasted a month during June and cost a million tons of lost coal production, lost wages, some $40, royalty revenue to the UMW's welfare fund, and a possible triple-damage lawsuit against the union.

BACK AT OLD JOB

CLEVELAND (AP) — Out of Ohio Penitentiary only seven weeks after serving five years for burglary Richard Eucker, 27, was arrested by East Cleveland police Sunday. Sgt. Anthony Lanese and Patrolman David Bidman said they surprised Eucker behind the counter of a coffee shop they checked when they became suspicious because glass in the door was broken.

Air Force Displays New Jet Fighter

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force Sunday took the wraps off the new F102A jet fighter interceptor, making its first public demonstration in flight before a select audience of 5,500.

The delta-winged F102A, "primarily a guided missile platform," was a star of an aerial firepower show at this air proving ground. Operational planes including the B47 medium and B52 intercontinental bombers also performed.

The demonstration was attended by invited military, business, professional and political leaders of this country, and military observers from Great Britain, Canada and South America.

Controversial Dancer Of Early 1900s Is Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Maud Allan, the controversial dancer who shocked the world nearly 50 years ago with her portrayal of a flimsy-clad Salome passionately clutching the papier mache head of John the Baptist, is dead at 76.

Miss Allan, bed-ridden for nearly two years, died Sunday at a rest home.

She created a sensation when in 1908 she appeared at London's Palace Theatre clad in diaphanous veils to dance her "Vision of Salome."

She was a pioneer in aesthetic dancing in revealing costume, but was modest compared with today's bubble and fan dancers. She always defended her dances as pure art.

Questions, Answers On Social Security

Q—My husband died in 1933 before Social Security began. From that time until she died in 1952, my daughter was my sole support. I submitted proof of my dependency and received word I would be eligible for monthly payments as a dependent parent when I reached 65. Does the change in the law reducing the retirement age for women to 62 affect me? I am 64.

A—Yes, assuming you have not remarried since your daughter's death, you will be eligible for a monthly survivor's payment beginning for November. The lowering of the retirement age for women as a condition of eligibility, applies to dependent mothers, as well as to widows, wives, and working women. Those between 62 and 64 who draw only a widows or surviving dependent parents will receive unreduced benefits. Payments to those between 62 and 65 who are eligible on their own account or to those who qualify as wives, must be reduced.

Q—I have been notified that my social security account has been frozen as of January, 1952. I am 63, and understand I will be eligible for a reduced payment beginning with November. I believe I could also qualify for a full payment, since I am disabled, beginning for next July. Will it be possible for me to draw the reduced payment beginning for November and then change to my full disability payment next July?

A—No. No disability payment is possible after retirement payments are accepted. Assuming that you could qualify for a disability payment beginning for July, you have the option of accepting, beginning for November, a reduced retirement payment, or waiting until July to claim your full benefits as a disabled worker. The reduction will be permanent and the amount will be based on the number of months you are under age 65.

Q—I expect to retire in January, when I will be 64, under the age 62-for-women provision. I will have made about $3,000 this year. When should I apply for payments? I am a pottery employee.

A—Because of the reduction provisions, it will be to your advantage to wait at least until the first month for which you may be entitled to receive a payment. Assuming your earnings for 1916 exceed $1280 and that you earn more than $80 in both November and December, you will not be entitled to a payment for any month before January.

$350,000 Animal Shelter Opens In Bronx, N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — A dog's life is the good life at a plush new $350,000 animal shelter opening in the Bronx today.

The modernistic refuge for homeless dogs and cats was built by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. It is equipped with running water, indirect lighting and soft music. The shelter also has five artfully lighted, glass-front adoption pens where cats and dogs can show themselves to best advantage.

Arriving dogs will probably be impressed most with the outdoor play enclosures. Each pen has a bright red fire hydrant.

This Month's Weather ---

Maps below give you the U.S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast from now until November. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an estimate of average precipitation and temperature for the period.

Precipitation for the greater part of the country will be light or moderate through the end of October. Only in the North Atlantic states and along the Gulf Coast is heavy rainfall expected to dampen autumn's glory.

Temperatures are expected to average below normal east of the Mississippi through the end of October. Most of the rest of the nation is expected to bask in unseasonable warmth before winter arrives.

Damaged German Ship Heads For Repairs

CLEVELAND (AP) — The German cargo ship Leabeth headed for repairs at the American Ship Building Co. yards in Lorain today after her owners had agreed to post bond insuring payment for an estimated $20,000 damage the ship caused when it struck a city water intake in Lake Erie.

The 258-foot-long freighter launched only last March, has slashes on her side, but no estimate of damage was made. No one was hurt.

"There may be some damage below water," said Capt. August Timm, 58. "We really will not know how badly we were injured until an inspection is made."

The Leabeth sideswiped the steel and concrete five mile crib about midnight Friday while on her way from Cleveland to Montreal, enroute to Hamburg. She carried a cargo of liquid latex in drums.

After the collision, the Leabeth headed back inside the breakwater, listing and taking in water. She was grounded briefly near the city dump for emergency repairs, then towed to the East Ninth Street pier. Three hundreds of curious persons looked her over Sunday.

New York Whips Brooklyn 6-2 On Sturdivant's Pitching

World Series Tied At 2-2

Maglie To Oppose Don Larsen Today

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—If the World Series continues at the present pace, with neither team able to win on the road, the Brooklyn Dodgers will repeat as world champions—in seven games.

The series has followed the exact pattern of last year's, only in reverse. New York's 6-2 victory Sunday behind the surprisingly strong pitching of Tom Sturdivant plunged the series into a 2-all deadlock.

Sal Maglie, winner of the opener at Ebbets Field, comes back today for Brooklyn to face Don Larsen, who couldn't hold a 6-0 lead in the second game, also won by the Dodgers. The Yankees won the next two, both at Yankee Stadium.

In 1955, the Yankees won the first two games at home and the Dodgers took the next pair at Ebbets Field. The teams continued to win in their home parks until the final game when Johnny Podres broke the string with his brilliant 2-0 victory at Yankee Stadium.

Apparently, a spacious ball park such as Yankee Stadium is not suited to the Dodgers' power, but Ebbets Field is made to order. Except for Duke Snider and Gil Hodges, Dodgers hitters are not real long-distance clouters despite their imposing home run record.

In the five series between the two clubs since 1949, Brooklyn hitters have batted 23 home runs in 15 games at Ebbets Field. In 4 games at Yankee Stadium, they've hit only 7, none in the two games this year.

The Yankees have hit 19 in the Stadium and 17 at Ebbets Field in one game less.

Two home runs were hit Sunday—both by the Yankees. Mickey Mantle got his second of the series, a Ruthian 440-footer into the center field bleachers off Ed Roebuck in the sixth inning. Hank Bauer walked his first in 6 Series games off Don Drysdale in the seventh with one on.

Those runs would have been enough for Sturdivant, who held the Dodgers to six hits, walked as many and struck out seven.

His biggest strikeout came in the ninth after the Brooks had scored once, and had him on the ropes with the bases full and only one out. Randy Jackson came up as a pinch hitter, representing the tying run. Young Tom whiffed him for strikeout No. 7. Jim Gilliam then flied out to end the game.

It was a big win for the Yankees and a bigger one for Sturdivant, a 26-year-old right-hander from Oklahoma City who began his career as an infielder in the Yankee farm system but turned to pitching because as he put it: "I hit only .247 in class B (for Quincey in the Three-I League in 1950)."

Sunday's game was one of wasted opportunities by the Brooklyn Dodgers, who got their lead-off man on base in seven of the nine innings.

Sturdivant, issued passes to the first batter in each of the first three frames. But he followed them up with strikeouts each time.

The Yankees scored in the first inning on Joe Collins' one-out double to right and a single up the middle by Yogi Berra after Mantle had grounded out.

Brooklyn tied it in the fourth on two hits. Snider, hitless in seven trips, opened with a double. Hodges brought him home with a single to center after Jackie Robinson had fouled out. A line drive by Sandy Amoros was turned into a rally-nipping double play by Collins.

A single by Billy Martin and a sacrifice fly by Gil McDougald broke it open in the bottom of the fourth for the Yankees. Mantle had walked on a 3-2 pitch to open the frame. And after Berra fanned Enos Slaughter was passed intentionally. Martin junked the strategy, scoring Mantle and moving Slaughter to third for McDougald's fly to center.

Roebuck took over for Erskine to start the fifth and retired the side in order. In the sixth, Mantle led off with a tremendous shot into the center field bleachers on a 1-0 pitch to make it 4-1. It was his second of the series and seventh in a World Series.

After Bauer's homer in the seventh, the Dodgers made one last stab in the ninth. Robinson opened with a double and, after Hodges struck out, Sandy Amoros walked on a 3-2 pitch and Carl Furillo walked on a 3-1 pitch to load the bases. Yankee Manager Casey Stengel visited the mound, said "that suits me" when Sturdivant told him how he planned to pitch and left the right-hander in the game.

Slaughter, playing deep in left field, couldn't come up fast enough to catch Campy's pop-fly single and a run was home. With the bases still full, Sturdivant struck out Jackson and Gilliam tied out for the third out.

CAMPY STRAINS TO MAKE CATCH—Brooklyn Dodgers catcher Roy Campanella tosses aside his mask as he twists after a foul pop in third inning of World Series game off the bat of Hank Bauer. New York Yankees, Sunday, Hank attempted to bunt and popped up behind the plate and Roy grabbed it. Yankees won, 6-2, to square the series at two games apiece.

Snappy One-Two Punch Carries Buckeyes To Two Straight Wins

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The snappiest one-two punch in years has carried Ohio State's Buckeyes to two straight grid wins, and could be just the thing to carve out an unprecedented third straight Western Conference crown for Woody Hayes' stalwarts.

Alston Questioned On Pinch Hitter

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn manager Walt Alston was the subject of some second guessing after Sunday's 6-2 loss to the New York Yankees in the fourth game of the World Series.

Questioned on the advisability of sending Rube Walker, a notoriously slow-footed man who subsequently bounced into a double play, up to pinch hit for starter Carl Erskine in the fifth with men on first and second, and the Brooklyn skipper said:

"Sure I might have had Erskine bunt or have sent one of the other boys, Chico Fernandez or Charlie Neal, to bunt the runners along. But I felt maybe Rube might hit a long one, and we'd try to make a bit of a inning. Considering that Rube hit into that doubleplay, I can say now that maybe I should have bunted."

In reference to the intentional pass given Enos Slaughter in the fourth with the score tied and Mantle on base, after which Billy Martin singled home the tie-breaking run, the Brooklyn manager said:

"Slaughter has been killing us all along. We did get him out today so maybe we should have pitched to him. Who knows?"

Browns Look More Like Grid Champs

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, looking a little more like the pro football champions they are, begin preparing this week for their home opener Sunday against the New York Giants.

Quarterback George Ratterman was clicking on his passes in Pittsburgh Saturday night—14 out of 17 completions, including 11 in a row—and Ed (Big Mo) Modzelewski, in spite of a sore ankle, was banging out yardage through the line.

I'd say we played our best in that one and beat a good team," Coach Paul Brown said of the 14-10 triumph.

Ratterman's passing yardage added up to 122 against the 153 Pittsburgh's Ted Marchibroda got on 13 of 25 tosses. But Brownie Halfback Ray Renfro, fastest of the Cleveland receivers, didn't play because of a sore leg.

On the ground, the Browns rolled up 214 yards to the Steelers' 92. Big Mo made 56 in 13 tries, including a 13-yard touchdown run up the middle on a trap play early in the final quarter. Rookie Pres-92. Big Mo made 56 in 13 tries, including a 13-yard touchdown run up the middle on a trap play early in the final quarter. Rookie Pres-

8-ticked off 69 yards in 12. Praising Guard Abe Gibrone, who had been nursing a sore leg all week, Brown said:

"It was Abe who did the trapping to spring Mo for that TD." A sellout crowd of 35,398 saw the Browns take the lead in the second quarter with 10 points. The Browns got the game's first touchdown in the second quarter after pushing 66 yards in six plays. Ratterman sneaked over from one yard out.

The march to the winning touchdown moved 51 yards, with the first 16 covered on a pass to Laveille and Modzelewski blasting out the remainder.

Canfield Defeated By Columbiana 28-13

Jim Bookwalter accounted for three Columbiana touchdowns Saturday as the Clippers defeated Canfield, 28-13 at Canfield. It was the second win in four outings for the Clippers. Canfield is now 1-2.

Bookwalter ran across six-pointers from 25, 15 and one yards away to spark the victors. Ray Oberholzer plunged over from the one for the other score.

Otis Smith snagged a pass covering 65 yards from Tom Fiffick for Canfield's first score in the second period. This made it 21-7 at intermission. Late in the contest, Paul Bindas ran over from the 10 for Canfield's final tally.

North Lima Nips Jackson-Milton 7-6

North Lima posted its fifth straight triumph by nipping Jackson-Milton, 7-6, Saturday afternoon in an Inter-County League contest at North Lima.

It was the second loop victory for the Zippers, Jackson-Milton is a 2-2 in both league and overall play.

Dick Dillon crashed over from the seven to climax a 35-yard drive late in the third quarter. Dillon also went around end for the important extra point.

Jackson-Milton scored early in the fourth period on an 11-yard run by Rich Trehard. The placement attempt was wide.

Cardinals Whip Giants 35-27

Lions Surprise Baltimore 31-14

By The Associated Press

As the National Football League heads into its third weekend of action, only two undefeated teams remain—the Chicago Cardinals and the Detroit Lions, both preseason underdogs.

The Cardinals, who defeated the New York Giants 35-27 Sunday for their second straight victory were given little chance of finishing higher than last year's fourth place in a tough, balanced Eastern Conference. The Lions, dropping from Western Conference champs in 1955, also won their second straight, surprising Baltimore and the experts 31-14 Saturday night.

In other Sunday action, the Chicago Bears righted themselves on the arm of quarterback Ed Brown and the toe of George Blanda for a 37-21 victory over Green Bay and San Francisco's 49ers stunned defending Western champion Los Angeles 33-30 on brilliant kicking by veteran Gordie Soltau.

League champion Cleveland, and Philadelphia, each won their first game of the season Saturday night, the Browns upending Pittsburgh 14-10 and the Eagles sloshing to a rain-washed 13-9 decision over Washington.

Quarterback Lamar McHan, running for two touchdowns and passing for two, upset the odds against New York and more than equalized three touchdowns by the Giants' Mel Triplett. It was Triplett's second straight three-touchdown performance.

Brown, completing 11 of 15 tosses for 188 yards, flipped 27 to touchdowns and scored himself from 3 yards out with a recovered fumble. Blanda booted three field goals and added to his league record for extra points with four, giving him 150 without a miss.

Green Bay's Al Carmichael ran back the opening kickoff 106 yards for a score to break the league mark by a yard. The Bears have a 1-1 record. Green Bay is 0-2.

Soltau, All-Pro end in 1952, kicked four field goals, from 27, 39, 15 and 25 yards, accounting for his team's 12-10 halftime lead. A last minute Ram threat produced a touchdown on an 8-yard pass from Norm Van Brocklin to Elroy Hirsch, but time ran out as the season's largest crowd at Kezar Stadium, 56,489 fans went wild.

The Eagles came from behind in the last quarter Saturday, covering 63 yards in 10 plays, to hand the Redskins their second straight defeat. Quarterback Bobby Thomson sneaked over from the 1 for the score.

Detroit rode Bobby Layne's passes for a 21-7 halftime lead and then scored 10 points more in the last period to sink the Colts.

The Browns, relying on a stout defense to make up for Otto Graham's absence, held Pittsburgh to 10 second-quarter points, scoring on a yard sneak by quarterback George Ratterman in the second period, and a 14-yard run by Ed (Big Mo) Modzelewski in the final one.

McDonald Edged By Goshen 7-6

The Goshen High School football team defeated McDonald High 7-6 in a game played at the Sebring field Saturday night.

McDonald scored in the first quarter as Toledo passed to Mc-Interie for 35 yards and a touchdown. The try for the extra point was missed.

In the second period Bob Stallsmith intercepted a McDonald pass and raced 51 yards for a touchdown. Stallsmith also ran over the extra point to give Goshen the lead, 7-6.

The second half was played in a downpour of rain, and neither team was able to move the ball.

This week Goshen will play undefeated North Lima at Sebring.

Greenford Loses To Lowellville 25-6

Lowellville High rolled over Greenford, 25-6, at Lowellville Saturday for the Rockets' first victory of the season. Lowellville's record now is 1-2-1. Greenford suffered its third straight loss.

Art Reedy scored twice in the first period on short plunges to get the Rockets started. Paul Melchini raced 60 yards with an intercepted pass in the second quarter as Lowellville took a 19-0 halftime lead.

Tom Johnson added the final marker on a 25-yard dash in the fourth before Greenford's Brudersley connected to Hiner on a 50-yard pass late in the game.

Springfield Defeats Fairfield-Waterford

Springfield Local, paced by quarterback Al Stevens, handed Fairfield-Waterford its first setback of the season at New Waterford Saturday with a 12-7 triumph. The Rebels had won two in a row. Springfield is now 3-1.

Stevens climaxed a long drive in the second period with a six-yard run and scored again in the fourth frame on a four-yard plunge following the interception of a Fairfield-Waterford pass.

Sooners Look Like Top Team

California Upsets Pitt's Panthers

By DON WEISS

College football is looking for a new king in the East, satisfied with the one it has in the Midwest, wary of a new power in the South, but for a national champion—well, those Oklahoma Sooners will do and do very well.

Bud Wilkinson's Sooners went their merry way Saturday, rolling up a major college record of 32 straight victories, to the surprise of exactly no one.

Kansas state was the victim and the only question was the score. It was 66-0 in spite of the fact that Wilkinson used five full teams.

If Oklahoma has a challenger for the top billing it assumed last year it will probably come from among Michigan State or Ohio State in the Midwest, Georgia Tech, Tennessee, Mississippi Tech, or even Vanderbilt in the South, and one of several Southwest Conference biggies, including Texas Christian, Texas A.M. and Baylor.

Southern California, probably the best in the Far West, can be expected to tumble in potential when Jon Arnett and others of its half-season players retire after USC's fifth game. The Trojans, with Arnett gaining 182 yards, whipped Wisconsin 13-6.

Michigan State, rated best in the Middle West and No. 2 in the Associated Press poll, and Ohio State, No. 4, used late rallies to defeat difficult opponents.

The Spartans were outplayed by strong Michigan for a half, then capitalized on a pass interception and a recovered fumble for a field goal and a touchdown and a 9-0 victory. Ohio State and Stanford had a scoring match for three quarters before the Buckeyes pulled away to win 32-20.

Georgia Tech, ranked third by the nation's experts, was idle but Tennessee, Ole Miss and Vandy upheld the prestige of the South. Tennessee, moving back into the national picture under Bowden Wyatt, thrashed Duke 33-20, Mississippi, sixth in the poll, defeated Houston 14-0.

Vanderbilt's power was unexpected and eye-popping in a 32-7 stomping of Alabama.

In the Southwest, Texas Christian blasted Arkansas, 41-6; The Texas Aggies downed Texas Tech 40-7; Baylor defeated Maryland 14-0; and Rice spilled Louisiana State 23-14.

In the major upset of the week-end, defense-minded Pitt lost to California 14-0 and left the East looking to the service academies for a possible successor to the Panthers as best in the sector.

Special Hardware Simplifies Hanging Of Plywood Doors

Plywood is understandably a favorite material for cabinet doors. It has dimensional stability that resists warp, and it presents a broad, smooth, uninterrupted surface for finishing.

But until special hardware became readily obtainable, hanging plywood cabinet doors was often-times a headache to home craftsmen. They found that hinge screws held poorly in the edge grain of plywood. That ruled out the use of common butt-type hinges, which are designed for edge mounting.

That the right kind of hardware seemed to be available to the manufacturers of wood cabinets maddened friend handy man all the more. He shopped his patience thin in the neighborhood stores, looking for duplicates of the factory-installed hinges. Usually the clerk's reply was Never heard of 'em."

Not any more. Several different kinds of hinges designed primarily for use on plywood doors are generally stocked by hardware dealers. Or, if not stocked, can be ordered. Rolling-door hardware is easy to come by, too.

Here are some of the hinges recommended by Douglas Fir Plywood Association for plywood cabinet doors (all have one thing in common—they mount in the flat face grain of plywood wherever possible):

SURFACE HINGES — The black wrought-iron kind look best. They can be mounted swiftly, require no mortising, add an ornamental touch and come in many styles. A pair of H or H-L hinges is sufficient for most doors. For large doors use a pair of H-L hinges and a third H hinge, or use three of the H type.

Tee or strap hinges in black iron help prevent sag in large doors. One or two hinges added between those at top and bottom help to minimize warping.

Semiconcealed hinges — There are two kinds: one is a tight-pin hinge designed for use on lipped doors (often found on kitchen cabinets, these doors overlap the edges of their frames); the other is a loose-pin hinge, one leaf of which is bent in an L shape so that it wraps around door edges. The tight-pin kind is made for doors of 3/4-inch plywood rabbeted to leave a 1/4-inch lip. A similar hinge is made for full-surface mounting.

Loose-pin hinges present the same outward appearance as butt hinges when the door is closed, since only the barrel shows. A variation called a chest hinge may be used in the same way.

CONCEALED PIN HINGES — These mount at the very top and bottom of flush doors, and the result is a neat, uncluttered, modern appearance. Only the pivot point of the hinge is visible from the front when the door is closed. Use a pair for small doors, and three—called "a pair and a half"—for larger doors.

As for rolling-door hardware, one of the simplest consists of two roller brackets attached to door tops, and a double-lipped track fastened to the door frame with screws. Single-lipped track is also made for single doors. The rollers have ball-bearing nylon wheels.

Some rolling-door hardware for closets and large storage units has bottom-mounted rollers. But on tall and narrow doors top-mount hardware is usually smoother in operation.

Gardener Quizzing The

Q — When is the proper time to move lily-of-the-valley roots?

A — October is a good time to transplant lily-of-the-valley roots, or "pips," as they are properly called, as they are more or less in a dormant condition.

Q — Why do we find it difficult to grow our lupine seedlings after setting them out in the garden? The seed germinates well and the seedlings thrive but few of them reach maturity.

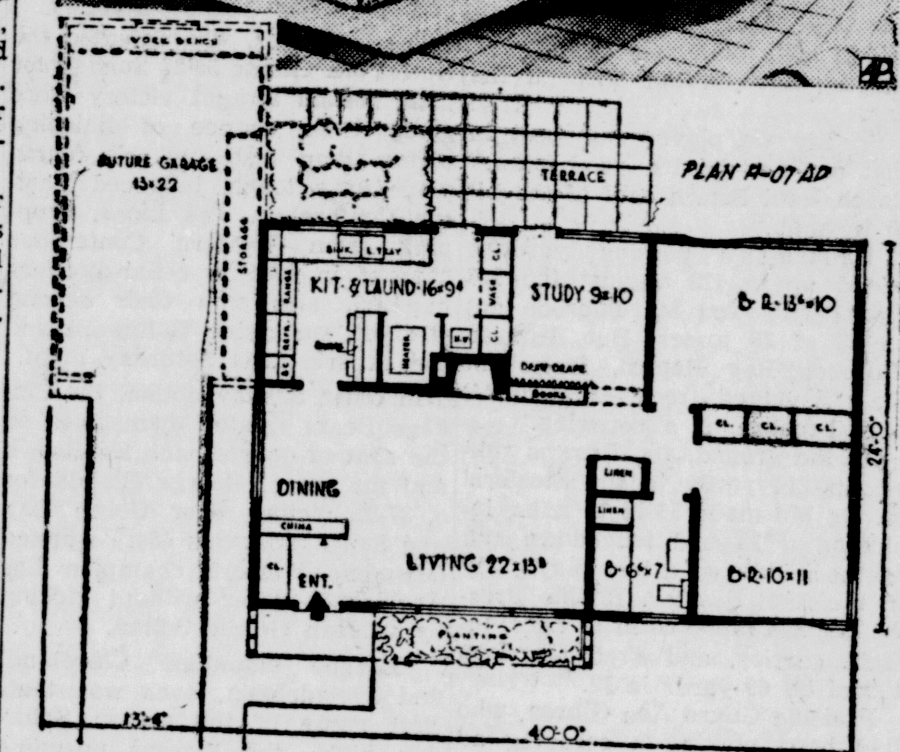

A — Lupines do not thrive in a rich soil. Failure generally comes from over-fertilization with nitrogen which is very injurious to the roots. A light sandy loam soil strong in phosphorus is best.

Q — Could you tell me how to grow holly from seed?

A — It sometimes takes two to three years to get holly seed to sprout. Collect seed in fall after it has ripened. Mix the seed with a half-and-half mixture of sand and peat moss and place in a flat or other container outdoors to chill over winter. Some seeds may germinate the first year. More will appear the second year and perhaps the remainder the third year.

Q — When is the best time to plant red raspberries?

A — Early spring is the best time. However, plants set in late autumn will thrive if soil is mounded several inches about the plants to prevent heaving from frost action.

UTMOST ECONOMY plus glamor is offered in this plan. The house is a simple rectangle, broken only by the roof over entrance and planting box. Ideal for a retirement house of two bedrooms, it also can be used by a growing family. The study is convertible to third bedroom use. Both study and kitchen have glass doors to rear garden terrace. Interior sketch of living room fireplace wall shows kitchen door at left and study at right. The house covers only 960 square feet. This is plan H-07AD by the Homograph Co., 11711 East Eight Mile Rd., East Detroit.

Home Repair Dos, Don'ts

DRIPPING FAUCET

DO . . . know that, in nearly all cases, constant dripping from an ordinary, compression faucet is caused by a worn washer.

DO . . . shut off the water to faucet, unscrew nut directly under handle by turning counterclockwise, then rotate handle in same direction as if turning on water—and entire assembly will come loose.

DO . . . remove screw at bottom of faucet stem and replace battered washer with new one of same size . . . also replacing screw if old one is rusted or in bad condition.

DO . . . replace faucet assembly, tighten nut and turn on water. DO . . . if leak continues after washer replacement, know that valve seat probably needs refacing, which can be done by buying inexpensive refacing tool and following directions that come with it.

DON'T . . . forget that above instructions apply only to a continuously dripping faucet, not to one which leaks at the stem (under the handle) whenever water is turned on.

DON'T . . . overlook the possibility that merely tightening the nut may halt a leak at the stem; if it doesn't, unscrew the nut, remove old packing and replace with packing washer or the string-like type of packing.

DON'T . . . mar the nut or any part of the faucet by careless workmanship; wrap a piece of cloth around the nut or cover the wrench jaws with adhesive tape to prevent scratching the metal.

DON'T . . . give up if the faucet stem is beyond repair; you can buy a replacement stem similar to the one in your faucet or a new model which does away with the screw-type washer.

SEEING RED?

Barn red is generally accepted to be one of the most durable of all house paints.

The famed Bow Bells of London's church of St. Mary-le-Bow, historic since the time of William the Conqueror, will soon be replaced. They were destroyed by Nazi bombs in World War 2.

Plant Bulbs Now For Spring Beauty

By HENRY FREE

If you want masses of exciting color in your garden next spring without any further effort on your part during that busy season, plant imported Dutch bulbs this fall. Next year by the time the first migrating birds arrive, you'll have such a floral display they won't know the old place!

When you plan your garden, be sure to get a full money's worth. Plan carefully so that your bulb-flowering time stretches over at least two months. You'll want tulips, hyacinths and daffodils, of course, but be sure to include early and late-flowering kinds so your garden is never without spring color—or from the first early bulbs until the last tulip gives way to summer flowers.

Don't overlook the so-called "little" bulbs—little in size but not in performance. First lady of spring, the snowdrop (Galanthus), blooms even in the coldest sections in February, flaunting fragile white bells in the wintry sun. Following closely on its heels is the glory-of-the-snow (Chionodoxa).

Early arrivals also include the spring snowflake (Leucojum) with its large white bells; each petal bears a dainty green dot. The snowflakes, along with the Siberian squill (Scilla) and its oreath-taking blue, are at home among perennials, under shrubs or in the rock garden. Being small, they are best planted toward the front of the border.

HYACINTHS, tulips and daffodils will put vivid color in your spring garden.

Crocuses grow well in lawns or under trees and shrubs. Their clear golden yellow, white, purple or striped white flowers are thrilling to behold in early spring.

Grape hyacinths (Muscari) are good companions for many bulbs, with their little, deep blue flowers clustered like bunches of tiny grapes. They bloom early and stay late, as if reluctant to leave the garden scene.

There are only a few simple rules to follow when planting bulbs. They like a mellow, rich soil with good drainage so they are not resting in wet soil all winter. But at the same time, bulbs require a fair amount of spring moisture. Sunlight is good for all of them, although early bulbs may be planted among deciduous trees and shrubs—receiving enough light while the branches are still bare.

In moderate and cool climates, plant your bulbs as soon as you get them, for they are less open to injury or drying in the garden bed than in makeshift storage in cellars and garages. In the warmer South, it may be wise to wait until later for planting to minimize fall sprouting. Here, too, gardeners will want to plant bulbs where they are shaded during the hot parts of the day when temperatures are relatively high.

Procedures for planting most bulbs are as follows: Plant daffodils in sun or light shade, six inches deep, and six to 10 inches apart. Plant tulips six inches apart, and at least six inches deep. The same goes for hyacinths, with full sun preferred. Plant crocuses three inches deep, three inches apart. Little bulbs can be planted in light shade or sun. Grape hyacinths should be planted two inches deep, two inches apart, while Siberian squill and glory-of-the-snow need three inches space between bulbs. Plant snowflakes three inches deep and four inches apart, and snowdrops three inches deep and three inches apart.

Fix-it Forum

Q — I have tried without much success to fill several cracks in the stucco walls of our home. The cement always falls out. What do you suggest?

A — Using a hammer and cold chisel, undercut the sides of each crack so it's wider at the bottom than on the surface. Scrape out old mortar and dust the crack with a dry brush. Moisten the crack with water, then pack in mortar with a trowel. Use two coats to fill deep cracks in which mortar is exposed.

WEATHERSTRIPPING

Don't paint over weatherstripping when you paint your window sash. The Weatherstrip Research Institute says paint on weatherstripping will cause windows to stick and bind.

Use only a fine grade of steel wool to clean this running track.

FHA Raises Remodeling Loan Limit

There's good news in the 1956 Housing Act for home-owners who want to do extensive remodeling to add living space or to modernize their houses.

Now they can obtain FHA-insured Title I loans of as much as $3,500 with a five-year period for repayment.

Before Congress passed the new law, owners of single-family dwellings were limited to FHA-insured loans of $2,500, repayable in three years. The longer amortization period means that monthly payments are smaller.

Terms Will Need

The liberalized terms are particularly important to growing families who need more space in their small houses and to owners of old houses who want to bring them up to date.

Here's the way FHA Title I loans work:

A family decides to build an addition on their small house for an extra bedroom and a larger, more modern kitchen. Their remodeling contractor tells them the job will cost $30,300 and the family applies for an FHA Title I loan through a local bank. The contractor or building materials dealer will help them with these financial arrangements.

FHA requires that a remodeling job "improve the livability" of a house. The colorful asphalt shingles chosen by the family for their new roof meet this requirement. Asphalt shingles are recognized as a "substantial improvement" because of their long life and weatherproofing ability.

Other Improvements

The mineral wool insulation which will be applied in batts in the walls and ceilings of the new addition and blown pneumatically into the walls of the old part of the house, also is an improvement frequently made. This type of insulation usually pays for itself in savings on heating while making the house more comfortable and increasing its value.

The windows and doors of ponderosa pine chosen for the new addition also represent a "substantial improvement." One of a number of reasons for this is that wood can be stained or painted, thus increasing the value of the house by adding to its appearance inside and out.

The new law for the first time also permits loans for improvement of houses that are less than six months old.

French anthropologists discovered a human jaw in Algeria they estimate to be more than 500,000 years old.

ORDINANCE NO. 561002-40
Introduced by: Hanna
BEING AN ORDINANCE DETERMINING TO PROCEED WITH THE IMPROVEMENT OF PENN AVENUE FROM EAST PERSHING STREET TO COLUMBIA STREET BY PAVING.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SALEM, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1
That it is hereby determined to proceed with the improvement of Penn Avenue from East Pershing Street to Columbia Street by asphalt paving and concrete curbing in accordance with resolution No. 560607-32, passed on the 7th day of August, 1956 and in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles heretofore approved and now on file in the office of the director of public service.

SECTION 2
That all claims and damages resulting therefrom shall be judicially inquired into after the completion of the proposed improvement and the solicitor and he is hereby authorized and directed to institute proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction to inquire into such claims.

SECTION 3
That the whole cost of said improvement shall be assessed by the front foot upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit:

All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specifically benefitted by said improvement and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required and the serving of the said notices, the cost of construction, together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments and all other necessary expenditures.

SECTION 4
That assessments so to be levied shall be paid in 20 semi-annual installments with interest on deferred payments with the same rate as shall be born by the notes and bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof, provided that the owner of any property assessed may at his option pay such assessment in cash within 30 days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

SECTION 5
That bonds of the City of Salem shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto and notes of said City shall be issued in anticipation of the issue of said bonds.

SECTION 6
That the City Engineer be and he hereby is directed to prepare and file with your council a tentative assessment showing the amount to be assessed on each lot or parcel of land.

SECTION 7
That the director of public service be and he hereby is authorized and directed as soon as the funds therefore are available to make and execute a contract for said improvement with the lowest and best bidder after advertisement according to law.

SECTION 8
This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

ATTEST: /s/ William C. Adams, clerk.

PASSED: 10-2-56.

Stevenson Talks To Fund-Raisers

Seeks To Boost Party Campaign Finances

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson today scheduled long-distance telephone pep talks to party fund raisers in the 48 states and District of Columbia to boost the "Dollars for Democrats" drive.

It was the second "first" disclosed this week by Stevenson aides.

The Democratic presidential candidate, meanwhile, rested at his suburban Libertyville, Ill., farm before taking his barnstorming troupe to the West Coast Tuesday.

Stevenson announced in New York Sunday that four topflight young Democrats — two governors and two senators — were joining him this week in California.

The unique idea is to "saturate" the areas with stumping talks by vigorous campaigners well known enough to draw crowds on their own.

Governors Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and George M. Leader of Pennsylvania and Senators Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Albert M. Gore of Tennessee will meet Stevenson Thursday night at a rally in Oakland.

On Friday, while Stevenson is addressing a midday rally at Fresno's courthouse, his helpers will fan out in light planes to rally their own in the area. From Stevenson's publicity chief, told day afternoon they plan to link with him again at Long Beach. They split up once more, then rendezvous Friday night at a San Diego rally.

Stevenson wound up a five-day Eastern campaign in New York City Sunday.

He flew to Chicago after watching a midtown Manhattan parade of Polish-Americans honoring Gen. Casimir Pulaski, who died helping fight the American Revolutionary War.

Stevenson aides said he set up the long-distance conference calls to whip up enthusiasm for "Dollars for Democrats Day," which is Oct. 16. Party workers in every precinct are going to rally forth, then, ringing doorbells and asking contributions of anything from one to five dollars.

WINS LASKER AWARD — Dr. Louis N. Katz, of Chicago, Ill., is this year's winner of the 1956 Albert Lasker Award of the American Heart Assn. He has been cited for outstanding contributions "in both research and education that have opened new horizons for workers in cardiovascular medicine everywhere." The award consists of a prize of $1,000 and a gold statuette of the Winged Victory of Samothrace, symbolizing victory over death and disease.

"So far as I know, this is the first time such a technique has been used," Clayton Fritchey, Stevenson's publicity chief, told day afternoon they plan to link with him again at Long Beach. They split up once more, then rendezvous Friday night at a San Diego rally.

Two conference calls were set up for the one-way conversation. On the first, at noon, Stevenson arranged to have his voice heard simultaneously by 24 state chairmen in the East. A half hour later it was the turn of the western half of the country.

In unscheduled remarks at New York's 20th annual Pulaski Day parade Sunday, the Democratic presidential nominee urged Americans to reject "complacency and indifference until lands and liberties are restored to millions enslaved throughout the world."

50,000 To See National Metal Exposition

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of the nation's largest conventions, the 38th National Metal Exposition and Congress opens a five-day stand in Public Hall today.

Among 475 exhibits worth an estimated six million dollars are machines that drill square holes, that weld metals together without melting them, that test metals' strength by sound waves.

Before the week is out more than 50,000 guests are expected to attend. Assembled scientists and metals engineers will give more than 150 technical papers in seminars scattered through the downtown hotels.

At a banquet Thursday night, the American Society for Metals will present its research medal to Charles M. White, chairman of Republic Steel Corp. Another honor, the Albert Sauveur achievement award, will go to Edgar H. Dix Jr. for his aluminum alloys research. Dix is assistant director of the Aluminum Co. of America's research laboratories at Pittsburgh.

The Henry Marion Howe award will be made to three men: Dr. Alexander R. Troiano, Case Institute of Technology professor; William J. Barnett of General Electric Co., Evendale, Ohio; and Richard P. Frohberg of North American Aviation Corp., Downey, Calif.

At a luncheon Friday, 100 student members of ASM chapters at Ohio State, Carnegie Tech, University of Pittsburgh, Case, and Youngstown and Akron Universities will be guests of the society.

Railroad Out To Silence Track 'Clickety Clack'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The sometimes soothing, sometimes annoying "clickety clack" of the wheels of the railroad track may soon be a sound of the past.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is out to eliminate the noise. It is going to use a welded track instead of the standard bolted rail to do the trick.

Samuel R. Hursh, chief PRR engineer, announced Sunday that a stretch of welded or "continuous" rail will be put in operation this week near Johnstown, Pa.

He said it is planned in the near future to install the new type rail on sections of the eastbound track of the Chicago-Pittsburgh main line at Van Wert, Ohio, and the northbound Washington-New York main line at North East, Md.

COLUMBIANA

Berryman Will Present PTO Program Wednesday

COLUMBIANA — High School Football Coach Richard Berryman and his staff will present the program at the October meeting of the Columbiana Parent Teacher Organization in the High School building at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

It will consist of a discussion and demonstration of plays in football and other sports.

Mrs. Mildred Liston will tell of the facilities of the new high school library.

Officers and committee chairmen will be in session a half hour before the meeting.

Columbiana High School students began today the annual benefit sale of magazine subscriptions, sponsored by the Hi-Y Club. Proceeds of the sale will be devoted to its projects for the school.

This year, the club plans to buy another drinking fountain for the main hall of the building, such a fountain having been installed last year.

Mrs. Fern Jackson, commercial department teacher, is the faculty member in charge of the sale. Prizes will be awarded students making the most sales. Subscriptions to the amount of $1,100 were sold last year.

Mrs. Jackson requests that residents who may be missed by the solicitors call the High School office, 2-4122.

"Bridges of America," a film produced by the American Bridge Co. and the U.S. Steel Corporation, will be shown by Contractor Earl Newell at the meeting of the Rotary Club at Valley Golf at 6:30 p.m. today.

Members of the Kiwanis Club will tour the new plant of the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Co. after dinner at Heck's Restaurant at 6:30 p.m. today.

Mrs. Elizabeth Deck of Phoenix, Ariz., formerly of Columbiana, is here to spend a month at the Park Hotel.

Mrs. Jessie Poulton is now a resident of Valley Rest Home, RD 1, Salem.

Members of Columbiana Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club will have as guests their sponsors and wives and husbands of members at their October meeting at Valley Golf at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

TO ADDRESS GRANDMOTHERS

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—U. S. Rep. Paul F. Schenck, Dayton Republican, will address a dinner meeting Thursday of the 15th annual convention of the National Federation of Grandmothers Clubs of America. The federation opened its six-day meeting Saturday, with more than 1,000 delegates of 420 clubs from throughout the nation attending.

Investors who guess right every time just don't exist

You never ate a watermelon without seeds. And you'll never find a stock that doesn't have some risk to measure.

That's why we never claim that we know which stocks are so stable that you'll decide, "I can't possibly go wrong on this."

But we do have facts. Plenty of them. Facts that go back to the beginnings of a company and trace its production, earnings, dividend payments, right up to today.

Any time you come into our office, we'll be glad to spread those facts before you. Usually they'll point your decision the right way.

Leetonia Council Discusses Proposed Gas Rate Increase

LEETONIA — The proposed new gas rate for Leetonia was discussed at the Village Council meeting recently.

Considerable time was spent going over the proposed rate for the village although action on the proposed increase in local gas rates will not be taken until the Nov. 7 meeting.

The proposed new franchise ordinance would mean an average increase of 26 per cent for local consumers. The increase would be considerable more than 26 per cent for some gas users, and less for others.

Street Superintendent Richard Kleinkecht was directed to cut down the high grass in the village. Respective property owners will be billed by the village for the work. Superintendent Paul C. Hayes announced this week that plans are underway for the offering of six courses in adult education at the local high school. Present plans call for registration of interested persons Oct. 15 and 16 at 7:30 in the high school.

Classroom work for the six subjects will get underway for the 20-week, two-hour weekly sessions, the week of Oct. 22.

A son was born Wednesday, Oct. 3 to Mr. and Mrs. Neal Keglemeyer at Salem City Hospital. Women of the O.S.I. will have their monthly meeting Sunday, Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. Plans will be made to help with the dance, sponsored by the OSI, at Copacia's Lake on Friday, Oct. 19. Proceeds from this affair will go toward the remodeling fund.

The Brillhart Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lester Mellinger with Mrs. Joseph Woodward leading the topic study, "Americans On the Move."

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Graham have received word of the marriage of their daughter, Patricia Kay to Ronald Stecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stecker which took place at Fort Smith Army Base, Ark., on Sept. 21.
